WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 29, 1905.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 6:58 a. m. and sets at 4:50 p. m. High water at 10:18 a. m. and 10:30 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section fair and colder tonight. Thursday fair, decidedly colder; fresh to brisk northwesterly winds.

Issue Settled.

The issue which arose yesterday between the Alexandria city and Alexandria county authorities, as to who should hold the inquest over the remains of James Richardson, colored, was settled this morning by Dr. W. R. Purvis, Coroner of this city, who went to Demaine & Son's undertaking establishment and ordered the remains to be buried. His order was immediately carried out, and when Dr. Ashton, County Coroner, Constable Cornell and the jury reached this city this morning for the purpose of holding another inquest at 11 o'clock they found nothing upon which to hold their investigation. They said they would return to the county, lay the facts before Commonwealth's Attorney Mackey and be guided by his counsel in the matter. This seems to be a new issue. For many years inquests have been held in Alexandria over the bodies of people who have met their deaths in other parts of the State, and the right of the Coroner to do so has never heretofore been questioned. The county authorities often come here and hold investigations over persons killed several miles from Alexandria. Richardson was killed by Alexandria policemen who are State officers, within a stone's throw of the city limits, while they were endeavoring to serve a Commonwealth's warrant. It is understood that the county authorities were notified of the shooting and Richardson lay dead where he fell for some time while the officers were awaiting to hear from them. The body was finally taken to Demaine & Son's establishment, and yesterday Dr. Purvis held the inquest. Some of the county officials think grave complications are likely to arise and that the undertakers will be held responsible for taking charge of the remains and burying them. It is said by those in position to know that it is lawful to hold an inquest wherever the body happens to be, and the matter, it is believed, will prove to be a tempest in a teapot.

Thanksgiving.

As has been announced, union services will be held in the Second Presbyterian Church tomorrow (Thanksgiving Day) at 10:30 o'clock a. m. The sermon will be preached by Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, of the Methodist Protestant Church. Other church services will be held as follows: St. Mary's at 6:30 and 7 a. m.; Christ at 11 a. m.; St. Paul at 7 a. m.; and Grace at 11 a. m.

The banks, government and city offices will be closed and the postoffice will observe Sunday hours. Public and private schools will be closed. While there will be no general suspension of business, the day will in some instances be observed as a holiday.

The market this morning was abundantly supplied with Thanksgiving edibles, but buyers were by no means numerous. The supply of turkeys seemed to be in excess of the demand. Drawn were sold at from 24 to 25 cents a pound, and undrawn at 18 to 20. There were some fine specimens on the benches. It was generally supposed that the murky and warm weather, together with the light demand, would weaken prices, or some of the birds would be left over in the hands of dealers.

Committed for Perjury.

Charles Twiner, colored, who was arrested Monday charged with being a party to the robbery of Ed. Jones, colored, on the confines of Alexandria last Sunday afternoon, was arraigned in the Police Court this morning. Two young colored women, who gave their names as Lorena Butler and Rose Williams, appeared as witnesses for the defense, and an attempt was made to prove an alibi. It soon appeared to the court that the witnesses were perjuring themselves, and they were committed to jail for a further examination. On the way from the court room to a cell one of the women asked Officer Roberts what was the meaning of the word perjury. The above incident recalls a case that occurred in Alexandria about eleven years ago. Three negroes had been arrested for assaulting and robbing Mrs. Harnish Blouse in the night time. They were arrested and identified by their victim. When the case came up in the Police Court before Mayor Strauss three colored women from Washington appeared and attempted to establish an alibi for the prisoners. Their contradictory stories proved conclusively that they were perjuring themselves and they were arrested and sent on to court.

Pistol Shots.

Several nights recently people living in the northwestern section of the city have heard pistol shots. They were heard again last night, and upon investigation it was ascertained that they had emanated from the ally running through the square bounded by Columbus, Alfred, Cameron and Queen streets, and that a blind negro had been discharging a pistol. It appears that the darkey lives in dread of the reappearance of a negro named Reeves who several months ago shot his wife and left the city, and every time the blind man hears a noise he imagines it is being made by Reeves and whisks out his pistol and discharges it. Justice Caton this morning directed an officer to proceed to the home of the colored individual and demand the weapon, and should he refuse to surrender it to take him into custody.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: J. F. Posey and J. D. Dodson, arrested by Officers Lyles and Nicholson charged with stealing a dog from Cecil Hufty, were fined $10 each. Robert Coleman, colored, arrested by Officer Young charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed. Charles Twiner, colored, charged with highway robbery, was committed to jail for a further examination. Lorena Butler and Rose Williams, both colored, charged with perjury, were committed to jail for further examination.

Distinguished Patronage.

Hall Caine, Israel Zangwill and John Philip Sousa are ardent admirers of Mildred and Rouclere. This indicates the high class of intelligence that appreciate these marvelous entertainers. Richard Croker attended every one of their August performances in Saratoga; that ought to make them strong with democrats. In Richfield Springs, the following week, they were highly complimented by Senator T. C. Platt and Governor Roosevelt, so the republicans surely know something about good things. The general public delight in them wherever they appear and after all that's the best approval they can get. They will while here produce their latest grand spectacular electrical success, "The Flight of Princess Iris," with elegant scenery, handsome costumes and wonderful mechanical effects, supported by a powerful company of well known vaudeville artists. The company will appear here tomorrow and give a matinee and night performance.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Bradley, of Fauquier, are in the city on a short visit to friends. Capt. Fountain Beattie, his wife and daughter are seriously ill at their home, in Fairfax county. Rev. T. O. Crouse, of Washington, will preach at the M. P. Church tonight. Mr. J. A. Lannon, of this city, and Miss Rosina T. Sullivan, of Anacostia, were married at St. Teresa's Church, at Anacostia, last night, in the presence of a large number of their friends, including several from this city. Miss Catherine Stuart, of Alexandria, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Bartlett Bolling. —Charlottesville Progress.

New Ferry Steamer.

As has been stated in the Gazette, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, held last week, it was determined to at once order another steamer for the ferry service between this city and Washington, and bids for the construction of the new boat will be asked for this week. The new steamer will be an exact duplicate of the steamer Woodbury, and is to be ready for service early in the coming spring. It is stated at the office of the company that the business done by the new boat has been satisfactory and that another boat is needed. When the second steamer goes on the route a half hour schedule will be maintained.

Descendant of Pocahontas?

The following is taken from yesterday's New York Tribune: "Mary Jane Harris, believed to be the oldest woman in the State of New York, died at New Rochelle Monday in her 112th year. Her grandmother was a full blood Indian woman. She said she was a descendant of Pocahontas, although it was generally believed that she was a negro. Mary Jane was born in Georgetown, D. C. She often told how she had seen George Washington when she was six years old, both in Washington and at Alexandria."

Basketball.

The Alexandria Basketball Club has been re-organized and will play its first game of the season at the Armory Hall on Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The team is composed of Messrs. Harry Kirk, Jr., Robert Green, B. Dobson, A. Gray, R. Tomlin and P. Tenssion. The team has been in constant practice and should put up a good game with their rivals, the Shamrocks, of Washington. Seats will be reserved for all ladies who desire to attend, free of charge.

Shot at Railroad Thieves.

Mr. Edward Tesh, watchman at the W. & O. R. R. depot, last night discovered several thieves in a car and started after them. The plunderers when they saw the watchman approaching started to run with several bags on their shoulders, but when Mr. Tesh discharged a double-barreled shot gun at them as well as a pistol they dropped one of the bags containing shoes, but succeeded in making their escape with other booty.

Charter.

A charter was granted by the corporation commission yesterday to The Old Dominion Protective Association, incorporated; principal office, Alexandria city; incorporators, J. R. Barbee, president; E. E. Waller, secretary; Joseph F. Penke, treasurer; all of the District of Columbia. It is proposed to conduct a fraternal and beneficial association for men and women without reference to creed, faith or politics.

Funeral.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Frances P. Smoot, who died Monday morning, were held at the residence, 611 Prince street, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. The interment was private. The services were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips and the pallbearers were Messrs. J. Clinton Smoot, Calvert Perry, Albert Smoot, F. S. Harper, W. F. Lambert and Henry K. Field.

New Paper.

The Potomac Baptist, a monthly paper published in the interests of the First Baptist Church of this city, together with the other churches of the Potomac Baptist Association, has made its appearance. The paper is edited by Rev. Dr. Fisher and Mr. J. R. Mansfield, and Mr. Samuel W. Pitts is treasurer and business manager. The publication is neatly printed and well edited.

Royal Arcanum.

An interesting meeting of Alexandria Council, Royal Arcanum, was held last night. One new application for membership was received. The council is said to be rapidly resuming its normal condition. In other cities members who had recently lost interest in the organization and dropped away are returning to their respective councils.

New Superintendent.

Mr. Warren S. Andrews, for the past few years general superintendent of the Washington Division of the Southern Railway, has been transferred to the Danville Division, with headquarters at Greensboro. He will be succeeded by Mr. C. S. Lake, who has recently been dispatched on the Danville Division.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.] C. B. Jewell vs. Gertrude F. C. Jewell; decree continuing previous decree till December 21. L. F. Harvey was appointed guardian of his daughter, Ida May Harvey.

Today's Telegraphic News

The McCue Costs.
[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]
Richmond, Nov. 29.—Governor Monaghan today declined to remit the costs in the McCue trial, basing his action upon the elaborate and able opinion rendered by Attorney General Anderson, the latter citing authorities to show that the Governor had no legal right to interfere. The decision saves the State about $3,000.

Conditions in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—The proclamation of martial law at Sevastopol has caused nearly the entire population to flee from the city, as the people fear there will be a pitched battle between the mutinous sailors and soldiers and the loyal troops. All the surrounding towns and villages are crowded with fugitive men, women and children from Sevastopol. Sevastopol, according to today's advices, is filled with troops, which have arrived there within the last few days, and it is believed that these soldiers will remain loyal to the government. M. machine guns have been placed in the streets and preparations have been made to carry out the decision of the local authorities to force the mutineers to give in to the government. A dispatch from Sevastopol received this morning says that a meeting of mutineers was held last night and that at that time the rebellious soldiers and sailors asked what terms would be given them if they surrendered. The naval staff affirms the reports that the mutineers at Sevastopol have been surrounded and will be forced to surrender. The mutineers will be court martialed and punished, but will not be shot. Other severe punishment will be inflicted upon them, however. The railway employees have refused to transport troops to Sevastopol, and this has delayed the government in getting soldiers to the storm centre. A deputation waited upon Count Witte to ask that Father Gapon, the well-known priest who was the leader of the workmen at the time of the disturbances last January, should be allowed to reside in St. Petersburg. The premier laughed when this request was made and said it came too late, as Father Gapon is already here.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29, 4:30 p. m.—Advices just received from Sevastopol state that the Black Sea squadron, which is largely in the hands of mutineers, is ready to bombard the city. The authorities, however, express their certain opinion that the mutineers are preparing to surrender.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—The general situation is considered desperate. It is now feared that the railway employees will join the strike in a body. There was frantic selling today on the stock exchange and prices were the lowest on record.

Storm on the Lakes.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 29.—The snow George Herbert sank late last night, on the north shore of Lake Superior. Her crew of five men perished.

The steel steamer Mariposa, of the steel trust fleet, is reported to have gone ashore at Twin Rocks, in Lake Superior. She is pounding and may be a total loss, it is feared. It is reported that one life has been lost aboard the steamer Mariposa, which is ashore near Superior. The rest of the crew were believed to be alive early this morning.

If the crew of the wrecked Mariposa is rescued the storm of Monday and Tuesday will go on record as the most remarkable in the history of the great lakes in that while property estimated variously at from $2,000,000 was destroyed, only six lives were lost. It is not believed further loss of life will be reported.

Waterside property in nearly every portion of lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron is reported to have been badly damaged. Docks and buildings have been swept away, lighthouses have been demolished, and large quantities of merchandise in store houses have been destroyed. The damage is millions.

Assaulted by a Convict.

Franklin, Pa., Nov. 29.—John Henderson, convicted of horse stealing on Tuesday, late last night made a murderous attack on George Clark, a fellow prisoner, through whose testimony he, Henderson, was found guilty. He beat him with a heavy window stick, and would have killed Clark, but for the interference of other prisoners. He has been charged with an attempt to kill. In addition to testifying against Henderson, Clark yesterday confessed to numerous horse thefts in Venango and adjoining counties.

Fire in Opera House.

New York, Nov. 28.—Fire in the Grand Opera House, situated at 23d street and Eighth Avenue, this morning, caused a scare, but the flames were quickly drowned out. The opera house escaped damage, except by water, but the scenery of the company representing "The Prodigal Son" was ruined, together with the costumes worn by the participants in the play.

Cold Wave.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—The Weather Bureau at noon issued the following cold wave forecast: "The first pronounced cold wave of the season will extend over the eastern part of the country tonight and Thursday with freezing temperature as far south as interior parts of the Gulf and South Atlantic States."

Senator Burton Sentenced.
St. Louis, Nov. 29.—U. S. Senator Burton was today sentenced to six months in the Iron county jail and to pay $2,500 fine. A motion for a new trial was over-ruled.

Saved by Dynamite.

Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite could cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Culhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her, so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store, price 25c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

A Cough Syrup which drives a cold out of the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels is offered in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Clears the throat, strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. The mother's friend and the children's favorite. Best for Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. A liquid cold cure and the only Cough Syrup which moves the bowels and works all cold out of the system. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

The Meriwether Case.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 29.—With the expectation of hearing Midshipman Meriwether testify in his own behalf in refutation of the charges on which he has been for a week on trial by court martial, at the Naval Academy, the largest crowd so far present filled the room, in the officers' club, this morning. A number of handsomely gowned women and visitors in town, to attend the Thanksgiving eve hop, were present.

At 10:20, Admiral Ramsey administered the oath to Meriwether, and the boy took the stand. In a strong boyish voice Meriwether, at the direction of Lieutenant Commander Robinson, told the story of his relations with Branch up to the time of the fight. This included the recital of many details of previous frictions between the two young men, in all of which Meriwether alleged Branch had been the aggressor. Meriwether did not describe the fight in detail which resulted in Branch's death, but after explaining that Midshipman Yeager and McKittrick, as seconds, arranged the details, he stated that in the fight, on one occasion, when Branch slipped on some water in one corner, Meriwether withdrew to the centre of the room. Witness testified: "I said: 'Branch this is a gentleman's fight and I won't hit you.' Later, when I fouled him accidentally, I offered to let my seconds forfeit, but it was decided to let the fight go on." "Do you think that Branch would have struck you had you been down?" asked Mr. Robinson. "He would not have struck me, sir." During the fight Branch rushed hard in the early stages, witness testified. Two falls he described, one against the blinds and the other against the door. Of the third, about the 15th round, he said: "Branch struck me a terrible upper cut. I returned it and fell short, then he clinched. My right arm was twisted around his neck, and his head was under my shoulder blade. When we fell his head struck hard and I was on top. My arm was badly wrenched. It took the referee to untangle us." Meriwether told of the close of the fight, his apology to Branch, and the statement that they would be good friends from then on. Meriwether's voice broke as he told of his hearing of Branch's death. His voice was low, and the room was very quiet. Every woman in the room was moved to tears by the emotion in Meriwether's tones.

A second later, Lieutenant Commander Robinson, asked Meriwether how the episode affected him and the boy replied: "It has hurt and grieved me beyond expression, in words, I think that Mr. Branch is indeed more fortunate in going to sleep and not waking up any more than to be in my place, and have to live a life after this sad and deplorable affair."

"What would have been the effect if you had not resented Branch's conduct?" asked Lieutenant Commander Robinson. "If I had not resented his action," answered Meriwether, "I would have been in the same position as a member of my class now is; no one in my class speaks to him. He is in Coventry. If I were in that position I would resign. No gentleman would be placed that way."

Under a rigorous cross-examination by Captain Marix and United States District Attorney Rose, Meriwether was frankly honest and unshaken in a fractional repetition of the story of his relations with Branch.
